

Newly Decorated Rooms Create a Comforting Place for Abused Women and their Children.

For women and children that come to Hiatus House, they are experiencing an extremely difficult time. Now these women will have a much more comforting environment as they begin to heal the effects of domestic violence.

WHOW (Women Helping Other Women) really make a difference!

WHOW is a group of women who want to give back to the community of Windsor & Essex County. This group is led by founders Mila Lucio and Maureen Lucas and includes Lerka Corchis, Marni DeJoseph and Karen Drocher. In June 2011 WHOW was the first group to re-decorate two bedrooms at Hiatus House.

These five women not only donated the decorations and furnishings for these rooms, but also donated their time and their gift for creativity. Thanks to their efforts the women and children that stay at Hiatus House will have a warm and comforting space to find solace during such a difficult time.

GECDSB Staff create a home-like feel.

Greater Essex County District School Board Staff, Shelly Duben, Clara Howitt, Jennifer Ball and Vickie Komar redecorated two more rooms at Hiatus House! The furnishings really make these rooms feel very welcoming.

GECDSB Instructional Coaches:
Lori Jones, Sharon Johnson and Sandra Fields made room 307 feel tranquil and peaceful with their new furnishings.

Thank you so much to WHOW and the Staff at GECDSB!
The staff and residents at Hiatus House truly appreciate their generosity and commitment in helping to make a difference in the lives of abused women and their children.
